went at the coming session. It is understood along parliament hill, the stories of his entry into the House through certain constitutionalities are discounted here. It is recognized that he will be very careful in choosing a riding for this purpose bearing in mind that a defeat would be a possible disaster for him personally. The case of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighan in the by-election in York South on February 9, 1942, is recalled when the Conservative leaders career was practically ended as the result of his defeat by J. W. Noseworthy of the CCF.

In any event, it is understood here that Premier Drew is planning to get into the House and that he will contest a seat in time to be leading his party when the next session gets underway, probably towards the end of January, with gossip behind the scenes on Parliament Hill being that he will have a fight on his hands in this contest as both Liberals and CCF are said to be ready to oppose him.

"EXODUS" - the story of the crossing of the plains

November 7th in the Stake House the four Raymond wards and Stirling ward are presenting the Cantata "Exodus", the story of the Mormons crossing the plains to Salt Lake.

This Cantata is the latest work of C. F. Tolstrup and will be presented under his direction. The chorus of 25 voices from Raymond and Stirling is accompanied by a 5 piece orchestra with special lighting and scenery.

The crossing of the plains is portrayed in music and drama with the dramatics under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Meeks. H. Myron Holmes is the Reader and scenery and lighting is taken care of by Mrs. Eleanor Hudson. Costumes are under the direction of Mrs. Louis Brantley. The electrical work is under the supervision of Lyle Piegras.

The Wards are presenting this work as a budget program and all over 12 years are welcome.
